Basic components of a digital collection

- Digital content and metadata
- Soft IT infrastructure
  - Software (digital collection management system)
- Hard IT infrastructure
  - Service hardware (servers, storage, ...)
  - Network connection and hardware (firewall etc.)
  - ... and a safe and secure place for all that
- People
  - Responsible for digital content and metadata, users of the DCMS
  - Responsible for soft IT infrastructure (admins)
  - Responsible for hard IT infrastructure (admins)
Basic components of a digital collection

• All mentioned components generate costs
• In smaller organisations there may be no proper hard IT infrastructure for a digital collection
• Apart from costs - lack of expertise to cope with IT infrastructure
• How can the work be simplified and reduce the cost of having a digital collection without limiting its value for end users?

La Table des Marchands

This is a chambered cairn next to the Grand Menhir Brie and Er Grah. It was a dolmen until recent restoration of the cairn and therefore the local name picked up on the table-like structure.
